

I want to invite you to join me tomorrow, Tuesday, October 6, at 5:30 p.m. on Zoom for an opportunity to share with each our struggles and challenges of living through this time of pandemic, including the isolation it brings and the uncertainty it creates for us. I offer this as a way to simply name our burdens which can be healing in a variety of ways.

We will have a format that allows each participant to share for a few uninterrupted minutes while the rest listen quietly and respectfully. I will frame this time of sharing with a chalice lighting and extinguishing and will offer a reading or two and a musical interlude in between. After we extinguish the chalice, we will have some time for socializing.

Below is the link information. Please contact me if you have questions. I hope to see you tomorrow evening.

Be well and stay well,
Rev Kathy
