

This Week at UUCOB

Members and Friends of the UU Congregation of Ormond Beach

This Week October 4, 2020 at UUCOB

9:10 Discussion Topic: “Is the U.S. a Nation of Immigrants?”

10:30 Service: Rev. Kathy Tew Rickey, “Columbus Day or Indigenous Peoples Day?”

My calendar still calls the first Monday in September Columbus Day, and it remains a government and bank holiday. What do you call it and why? At General Assembly this summer, I noticed that when speakers introduced their home congregations or other key locations, they would mention the First Nations people associated with that location. We will look at the reason for these G.A. disclosures and at the First Nation people of our own locale.

Service Leader: Ludy Goodson

Message from your Minister

Beginning Tuesday, October 6, at 5:30 p.m., Rev Kathy will be hosting a bi-weekly Zoom meeting called, "Honoring Our Lament." This hour will provide a sacred space for naming our struggles and challenges of living through this pandemic. We will simply share, taking turns one at a time while others listen without comment or crosstalk. Our sharing will be interspersed with music and readings. We will have time for fellowship at the end of the hour. All are welcome.

Here is the link information:

From Phil Elliot

Even before CV19 many banks were limiting free notary services to documents signed by a customer of that bank. Finding and accessing notaries is made more difficult by the virus pandemic.

I'll be glad to attempt to help (at no charge) if you should need a notary.

News from Betty: All well in Denmark. We are well isolated from huge crowds, and we are enjoying an Indian Summer with pleasant temperatures of F 65-75 – a very comfortable warmth for us.

We take long walks, speak with friends and family, and we will spend time doing some sightseeing away from large crowds. Ruth, our daughter is here at the moment and we are enjoying her company.

We really enjoy eating our own fruit, nuts, vegetable, and local, new laid eggs from our neighbor's chickens. Ruth and I love to garden so we are now constructing a circular stone-garden picking the stones from nearby fields where we can find very large stones ideal for such a project. Occasionally, we still find small flint axes they are truly sharp and cut almost anything you want to cut.

Have a good October month.

Betty & Philip

Life Long Learning Fall 2020

Two Hundred Years of Great Scientists

William A. Hilburn

Wednesday, October 14, 2020, 4:00—5:30

When people think about the greatest scientists in history, most focus on two: Sir Isaac Newton and Albert Einstein. Though these two individuals both contributed to our understanding of the world and changed the direction of science during their lifetime, they are separated by 200 hundred years of the most profound and amazing discoveries. In this talk Drew Hilburn will discuss the contributions of the other great scientists during this 200 year interval, which enabled Einstein to enhance and extend one of Newton's greatest accomplishments.

Drew is an Advanced Placement Physics teacher at Mainland High School and is currently serving in his 27th year. He has taught physics at the junior high, high school and college levels, and was recently named teacher of the year at Mainland High School.

Early Developments in Christianity

Reverend Kathryn Tew Rickey

Wednesday, October 28, 2020, 4:00—5:30

In the early years following Jesus' death, his disciples and followers were left to ponder his teachings and live into them as best they could. Among the earliest Christians there were varied thoughts and beliefs not only about what Jesus taught but also about the nature of his human existence. Reverend Kathy will take a look at some of those varied beliefs and at a few non-canonical gospels. Then she will turn our attention to the key people and events which led to today's Christianity.

Kathy Tew Rickey is an ordained Unitarian Universalist (UU) minister. She serves the UU Congregation of Ormond Beach. Rev. Rickey has served congregations in Rochester, Syracuse, and Cortland, New York. She also served as a hospital chaplain in Rochester. Before becoming a minister, Rev. Rickey was a banking consultant and continuing education teacher. She raised two daughters and several dogs while living in various places in the Eastern U.S. Over the years, she has taught many adult and youth religious education courses in the context of congregational life.
