

This Week at UUCOB

Members and Friends of the UU Congregation of Ormond Beach

This Week October 18, 2020 at UUCOB

9:10 Discussion Topic: “Mistakes in my life for which I am grateful.”

10:30 Service: Rev. Kathy Tew Rickey, “Mary Oliver: Tribute to One Who Listened” The worship theme for October is Deep Listening. On this Sunday, we will celebrate the great poet, Mary Oliver, who listened deeply to nature and reported back to the world in splendid verse. For this worship service, a few of our own bards will read selections from Oliver’s collection, which will be interspersed with musical interludes and short reflections by Rev. Kathy.

Service Leader: Ludy Goodson

Message from your Minister

Beginning Tuesday, October 6, at 5:30 p.m., Rev Kathy will be hosting a bi-weekly Zoom meeting called, "Honoring Our Lament." This hour will provide a sacred space for naming our struggles and challenges of living through this pandemic. We will simply share, taking turns one at a time while others listen without comment or crosstalk. Our sharing will be interspersed with music and readings. We will have time for fellowship at the end of the hour. All are welcome. Here is the link information:

From Phil Elliot

Even before CV19 many banks were limiting free notary services to documents signed by a customer of that bank. Finding and accessing notaries is made more difficult by the virus pandemic. I'll be glad to attempt to help (at no charge) if you should need a notary. - Phil

Life Long Learning Fall 2020

Early Developments in Christianity
Reverend Kathryn Tew Rickey
Wednesday, October 28, 2020, 4:00—5:30

In the early years following Jesus' death, his disciples and followers were left to ponder his teachings and live into them as best they could. Among the earliest Christians there were varied thoughts and beliefs not only about what Jesus taught but also about the nature of his human existence. Reverend Kathy will take a look at some of those varied beliefs and at a few non-canonical gospels. Then she will turn our attention to the key people and events which led to today's Christianity.

Kathy Tew Rickey is an ordained Unitarian Universalist (UU) minister. She serves the UU Congregation of Ormond Beach. Rev. Rickey has served congregations in Rochester, Syracuse, and Cortland, New York. She also served as a hospital chaplain in Rochester. Before becoming a minister, Rev. Rickey was a banking consultant and continuing education teacher. She raised two daughters and several dogs while living in various places in the Eastern U.S. Over the years, she has taught many adult and youth religious education courses in the context of congregational life.

Spirituality Traditions of Africa - Thursday, October 22 - 7 p.m.

Metaphysics & Principles of Ma'at
Second in a series of Zoom webinar lectures by Robert Whiting

(Send an e-mail to SpiritualityAACCS@gmail.com with the notation African Spirituality Zoom Meeting to receive Zoom instructions.)

When missionaries came to Africa, they had the Bible, and we had the land. They said, "Let us pray." We closed our eyes. When we opened them, we had the Bible, and they had the land. - Bishop Desmond Tutu

What was the pre-colonial spirituality of Africa?

Want a feel for the transition that Desmond Tutu refers to in a bit of tongue in cheek?

For answers, join us at a series of lectures by Robert Whiting.

He has done over 40 years of research on Africa, particularly Nile Valley Civilizations. Mr. Whiting studied the Medu Netcher (Egyptian Hieroglyphs) under the tutelage of Ankh Mi Ra, the only African American to write a grammar book on this ancient African language. He has sat at the feet of some of the world's most preeminent African scholars and went on a study tour to Kemet (Egypt) with Dr. Charles Finch, an internationally renowned Nile Valley Civilization scholar and lecturer. Mr. Whiting has lectured in a variety of settings including universities, schools, churches, and community groups up and down the East Coast, as well as in Africa.

Thursday, November 19 – 7 p.m.

Herodotus and Europe & African Spirituality & Religion

This series is being offered by the African American Cultural Society (Palm Coast, Fla.) and the Unitarian Universalist Congregation (Ormond Beach, Fla.) with opportunities for participants and the presenter to dialog on Zoom. Mr. Whiting is an AACS Gold Lifetime Member and Education Committee chairman
